Thank you for really wasting my whole high school experience when I could've been experimenting figuring out who I am rather than wasting my life. You could've told me months ago that you were done trying and that you weren't gonna give effort and that you weren't obsessed with me anymore so I could've broken up with you then

This is our life that you’re playing with so you have to fix this I’m going to have to just block you on everything and move on with my life I can’t keep going through the cycle over and over. Right now your actions are speaking louder than your apologies ever have. if you really want this relationship you would be chasing and working towards it.

this just isn't fair. in an argument and fight, you apologize.. especially when you're together. i know my worth and i know i deserve an apology after all this. i'm not saying you don't care for me or love me, it's just a simple apology. I shouldn't even have to ask it makes it not special anymore this is so sad.

to make this work, it’s not about who changes first. it’s about both of us working together to change. there needs to be hella improvement in this relationship. I we both need to show each other change i’m sorry for my end and my faults. there will be change on my end. but will there be on yours? From what it looks like your just saying sorry to get me back.

You were literally the one that asked me to talk in person how come you're the only one who hasn't done anything that they said that they were going to do to be better so far you've just been worse. You know I'm mad at you for more reasons other than just requesting breathing and you know that don't know why that comment had to hurt you so bad now stop bringing it up because it's over with

Im not trying to do anything i was trying to throw that in the past so hard that was a shitty example of an apology cuz that whole thing was a misunderstanding if it were something else yes i would have acted better but i was already in an irritated mood and just wanted to ignore it till it calmed down so i didnt get rly irritated when im mad i wanna ignore the problem till im not mad and u wanna work it out right then but we should meet in the middle as if im irritated or mad and dont wanna talk we ignore it but then as soon as im not mad i have to talk to u
